Shivaji's Childhood

Life of Shahaji Raje

During those times, Shahaji Raje was with Nizamshah who was a fickle minded person, readily believing gossip.

Many conspiracies and petty rivalries infested his court which resulted to the killing of Lakhujirao Jadhav.

Infuriated Shahaji Raje left Nizamshahi and joined Moghuls.

Moghuls rewarded him with Shahaji Raje's territory.

Fattekhan, secretly joining hands with Moghuls, killed Nizamshah.

Moghuls rewarded him with Shahaji Raje's territory.

So angered Shahaji Raje left Moghuls .

He found out a child heir from Nizam's family and declared him as a new Nizamshah on the fort of Pengiri near Junnar.

The new kingdom's territory was that between the rivers Godavari and Nira.

Initially Adilshah was with him but later signed treaty of friendship with Moghuls against Shahaji Raje.

Though fighting bravely using guerilla tactics, Shahaji Raje alone, could not sustain this war against joint power of Moghuls & Adilshah.
